Stovehouse is an adaptive reuse project built on the bones of the 1929-built Martin Stove factory. Its grounds have been designed to honor the site's history while providing modern spaces for culture and community, for working and playing in Westside Huntsville, AL. Stovehouse provides stunning and unique backdrops for professional and amateur photography and video work. If you intend on taking photographs of, or on, the campus, please read over this information before you plan your session.

CONDITIONS GOVERNING PERMISSION FOR STILL /MOVING IMAGES AT STOVEHOUSE

1. All commercial/professional and amateur photographers must pre-register with Stovehouse before shooting and include a complete description of activities and the intended use of the images produced. While shooting, photographers must keep a copy of the application, signed by a Stovehouse representative, with them at all times.
2. Access granted by Stovehouse applies ONLY to outdoor and covered areas of the campus, and does NOT apply to Stovehouse tenant spaces. You must ask permission of any tenant on campus before entering their establishment with the intent of photographing or filming inside.
3. Stovehouse does not guarantee access to a particular location on its campus.
4. Stovehouse does not grant exclusive rights for reproduction.
5. Sessions must be completed during normal hours from 8AM-10PM Sunday-Saturday. Stovehouse does not restrict public access to open areas of the campus and shoots must not bar or block access to the campus without advance written permission. Additional fees may apply.
6. Because of safety concerns shoots must be conducted within public areas only. No equipment or personnel may go beyond barriers or upon historic equipment or structures. Access to some restricted areas, however, may be granted but only with advance written approval. Stovehouse staff members will be present and additional fees may apply.
7. Stovehouse does not provide security or storage space. Outside arrangement should be made for shoots that continue for more than one day.
8. Photographers assume all liability for their personnel and property and any damages to the site. Stovehouse shall not be held responsible for damage to photographers' equipment or property. Each person must sign a general release form.
9. For groups numbering more than five people, or with more than one support vehicle, an insurance certificate must be provided.
10. Stovehouse must be credited as a contributor in traditionally bylined usage (video production, news etc). Unless otherwise specified, the credit line should read: "Stovehouse Properties, Huntsville, Alabama".
11. Stovehouse reserves the right to one complimentary copy of the publication/video/film/photograph in which an object or structure of its collection appears. Please send this copy to "Stovehouse, Attn: Photography", 3414 Governors Dr. Suite 215, Huntsville, Alabama 35805 or via shoot@stovehouse.com.
12. Stovehouse reserves the right to use any work for promotional purposes, citing the producer/photographer with full credit for the work.
13. Stovehouse reserves the right to request modifications of or reject any proposal for campus access that is inconsistent with its brand, affects the experience of its patrons, or interferes with the operation of the campus or its tenants.
14. Sessions may be immediately terminated by Stovehouse staff if deemed inappropriate or if they do not follow agreed upon conditions.
